RAMCO FIELD SERVICES

Why have your limited personnel and resources distracted from their primary duties to perform takeoffs on piping systems for Safety Shields?

RAMCO® Field Services Specialists are factory trained personnel that visit your location to perform a facility survey. When the survey is complete you will have accurate measurements for each connection and an individual location tag and register.

RAMCO® specialists are trained to perform in industries such as Power Generation, Petro-Chemical, Refining, Pulp & Paper, Marine and Offshore, Mining and Semi-Conductor to name a few.

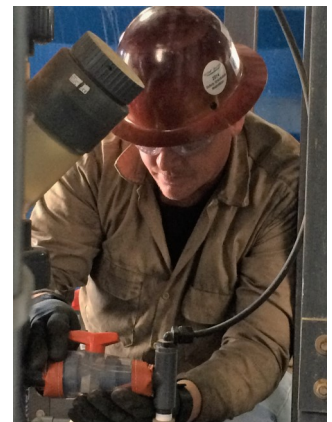

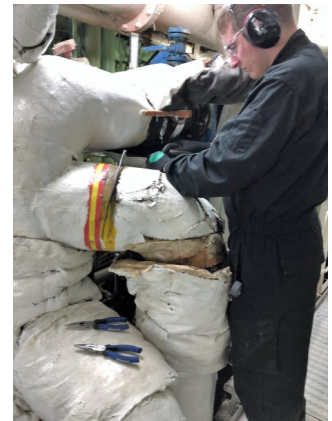

Why use RAMCO® Field Services for your survey and installation of Safety Shields? With over 60 years of experience we know what it takes to ensure your personnel and equipment are protected.

Our technicians are trained to ensure the survey will provide the protection required for your facility, while maintaining high expectations of personnel safety.

Our RAMCO® Annual Protection Program brings a technician to your facility annually to inspect any products that are installed for serviceability.

RAMCO® Safety Shields are used to protect personnel and equipment in Industrial facilities worldwide on hazardous chemical , flammable liquid and steam piping systems.
